

SOMETHING CURATED

SEPTEMBER 17, 2020

THE AESTHETE'S WISH LIST: 10 OF THE BEST THINGS YOU CAN BUY THIS SEPTEMBER

by Something Curated

(via HOUSING)

THERE I LIE, FEVER, 2020 || NATHANIEL OLIVER

Nathaniel Oliver is a multidisciplinary artist currently based in New York. His practice in painting, sculpture, performance, video, and installations focuses on veracity not being absolute. Guided by perspective, he challenges the normality of the world in which we live. In this digital world, fact is manipulated and cropped to its beneficiary. Conversely, veracity both builds and dismantles spaces. His works reflect the literal and metaphorical experiences that he has come to comprehend and the attestation of him being there. Enquire at HOUSING.